

A GOOD RECORD

ADVENTISTS OF PACIFIC UNION CONFERENCE MAKE LARGE CONTRIBUTIONS

Seventh Day Adventists of the Pacific Union Conference, which includes the states of California, Arizona, Nevada, Utah and Western Colorado, contributed more than $127,000 to the various enterprises of the denomination during the three months ending September 30 last, according to the report of B. M. Emerson, the treasurer, just made public at the headquarters of the Adventists here. This is an average of about $9.80 a member, and at this ratio the amount given in a year by every Adventist church member on the coast would be $39.20. The $127,317.51 which was given does not include offerings to maintain the various educational enterprises of the Seventh Day Adventists, their numerous sanitariums and their publishing work, but is in addition to such sums. The $127,000 goes for the support of their ministers and missionaries and for local church work. Of this sum, $73,149.87 represents the tithe, or tenth, of the income, which is contributed in harmony with the Bible plan of systematic giving, and is used exclusively for ministerial support.

The Seventh Day Adventists' book and periodical sales in the five states named amounted last quarter to $29,142.95, a gain of nearly $3000 over the sales of the preceding three months. Not only in the United States, but in almost all countries of the world, Seventh Day Adventist books and periodicals are being widely read by an interested public, which is asking the meaning of present day events in the light of the Bible. By publishing their literature in 91 languages they have been able to belt the globe with the printed page, reaching even Lapland and Iceland, as well as the great South American and African continents, the islands of the South Seas and China's millions. The Pacific Press Publishing Association, at Mountain View, Cal., the principal Seventh Day Adventist publishing plant on the Pacific coast, is turning out millions of pages of their literature every year.

RECEPTION FOR BRIDE AND GROOM

On Friday evening a reception was given for Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert W. Anderson, who were married Thursday, by the mother of the groom, at her home, 407 South Isabel street. About forty guests were present from Los Angeles, Ocean Park, Hollywood and other towns in the vicinity, as well as Glendale. The parents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Harris, of Garvanza, as well as her sister, Mrs. Ellington, and her husband, and Master Warner Harris, motored over for the occasion. Other specially honored guests were Mr. and Mrs. Walter Sauter, of 409 West Third street, a bride and groom of two weeks, who were married in Los Angeles on October 13, after Mrs. Sauter, then Miss Ruth Donovan, had made the trip from her home in St. Louis.

The evening was spent informally with music and a good time. Mr. George Anderson, brother of the groom, gave several piano selections, and Mrs. T. F. Higgins, who was the bride's matron of honor, sang beautifully, being her own accompanist. She has a charming voice and delighted her audience. Refreshments of delicious cake and ice cream were served. Pink and white carnations were the flowers used in the lovely decorations. The young couple received many beautiful gifts.

VISITORS FROM WYOMING

Mrs. W. L. Colton, of 345 South Central, is entertaining as house guests her mother, Mrs. F. C. Meeks, and her sister, Mrs. W. D. Hyot, both of Hudson, Wyo. Mrs. Meeks had not seen her daughter, Mrs. Colton, for more than 16 years, and neither she nor Mrs. Hyot have ever before been in California. Both, however, have been so favorably impressed by reports and what they have already seen since arriving on Thursday by the Salt Lake Limited, that they hope to be able to find permanent homes in Southern California. Mrs. Hyot's husband is a contractor and builder in Hudson and mayor of the city.

Mrs. Meeks is the widow of the late H. H. Meeks, one of the pioneer cattlemen of Wyoming, and she is still owner of a large cattle ranch near Hudson, which carries several thousand head of cattle and over 100 head of fine horses. The ranch is now in charge of two sons, Wiley and Elmer Meeks. She came west with her parents in 1847, and settled at that time in Salt Lake Valley.

HIGH SCHOOL BOYS IN MACHINE SHOPS

Gratifying word has been received from the three Glendale Union high school graduates who entered the Sante Fe machine shops in Richmond, Cal., as apprentices, a little more than three months ago. It has been decided to allow them nine months' credit for the work done while in the high school machine shops, so that, on October 1, they were given credit for one year's work completed instead of three months. The course is for four years and the pay is advanced after every six months, so that the credit received for the high school work is of immediate financial benefit to the boys, as well as advancing them materially on the way toward graduation. The boys are George Terrill, Lawrence Rowe and Walter Peters.

REMEMBER THE BOYS

Have you visited the headquarters of the National Defenders' Yuletide Committee, at 1017 West Broadway? If not, do so at once. Remember, this is the first Christmas away from home for our soldier and sailor boys. Will it be sad or glad? That depends on you. We have nine or ten thousand boys from Southern California under the colors, who must be remembered. Let us do our share. One dollar puts you on the honor roll; two dollars buys a gift box. A nickel will help. MRS. STEPHEN C. PACKER, Publicity Chairman.

GOODWINS RETURN

Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Goodwin are again at their home, 142 West Tenth street, after several months absence on account of Mrs. Goodwin's poor health. They spent three months at Lake Tahoe, and after their return from the north were guests for a week at Stratford Inn, at Del Mar. While Mrs. Goodwin's health is improved, her friends will be sorry to learn that she will not be able to take any active part in club work the coming winter.

SILVER ANNIVERSARY

DR. AND MRS. C. W. BACHMANN SURPRISED BY FRIENDS FRIDAY EVENING

Last evening a gay party of old-time friends assembled at the home of Dr. and Mrs. C. W. Bachmann, 303 West Ninth street, to offer congratulations, the occasion being the twenty-fifth wedding anniversary of this popular couple. Refreshments were brought along, and, after an exchange of greetings and some dancing, all gathered around the long table in the dining room and enjoyed a delightful repast. At this time, Mrs. Flora H. Foss, in a neat little speech, presented the happy pair with a bag of bright silver dollars. A hand painted folder, the work of Mrs. Foss, prettily inscribed with an appropriate sentiment and with the names of all present enrolled, was also presented as a memento of the event.

The guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Harry Duffield and Mrs. Fanny Y. Stockbridge of Glendale, Mrs. Flora H. Foss, Mrs. Grace E. Merrill, Mrs. Eva F. Furlong, Mrs. Helen Robinson, B. R. Dix, C. P. Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. George Meyer of Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. George Melford of Hollywood, and Frank M. Hale, Eldridge, Maine.

This evening Dr. and Mrs. Bachmann are giving a Red Cross benefit dance at their home, which promises to net the Glendale chapter a goodly sum. Nine dozen doughnuts, cookies, coffee, cream and sugar have been donated for the party, besides five gallons of "scrumptious" cider, and there will be automobiles on the street near the high school and in front of the Red Cross headquarters this evening about 9 o'clock to provide transportation for all those desirous of attending the festivities. Everybody come and have a good time. There will be room for all.

LONESOME SAILOR LAD

One of our sailor lads spent a lonesome day in Glendale on Friday, although he testified to having enjoyed the scenery very much, since it was his first visit to Southern California, and he managed to occupy himself very agreeably in sight-seeing, accompanied by the usual thrill of picking his first orange. G. M. Smith is his name, and he comes from Lincoln, Neb. He is on sick leave, having recently come out of the hospital, where an attack of measles quite seriously affected his eyes. His company was sent to China during his illness, so that he does not know where he will be stationed on his return to Mare Island. He came to Glendale in the hope of finding a friend, Mr. A. W. Pitcher, of 102 East Second street, who has returned from the navy on a medical discharge, only to find that the family had recently moved to the desert, apparently leaving no address. The mothers and friends of the navy boys who have gone from Glendale would gladly have entertained the stranger had there been means of his getting in touch with them, a situation which was happily remedied today through the office of the Glendale Evening News, so that the rest of his leave will be spent most pleasantly, and he will return to Mare Island next Thursday loaded down with messages for the Glendale boys from mothers and friends whom he can now also count as very real friends of his own. He will have an interesting story to tell the boys of the navy of how Glendale feels toward "our boys," from wherever they may hail.

Mr. Smith was invited to lunch today by Mrs. E. A. Bode, whose son, William, is now at the Presidio, in San Francisco, and in the afternoon Mr. S. Kinch, of 314 Orange street, motored the party, including his own family, over to Pasadena and about the surrounding country for an afternoon's sight-seeing trip. Mr. Smith will have dinner with Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Dreyer, whose two sons are in the navy. Henry now being stationed at Coco Sola, a submarine base on the Panama canal, and William still being in the naval training camp at Mare Island. Francis Dreyer, a younger son, with ambitions for the navy when he shall be old enough, plans to take Mr. Smith as his guest to spend the night at the home of a cousin at Long Beach, and on Sunday the two boys will visit the naval training station at San Pedro. Though "our" sailor lad had intended leaving on Monday, Mrs. Dreyer hopes to keep him as her guest until the latest day possible before his return is necessary in order to be in San Francisco on Thursday.

WEATHER FORECAST—Fair tonight and Sunday, except cloudy along the coast. Southerly winds.

RED CROSS ACTIVITY

CITIZENS OF GLENDALE URGE THAT MONEY BE FURNISHED TO RED CROSS WORKERS

J. H. Braly, of 250 North Brand boulevard, president of the Glendale chapter of the American Red Cross, was host to a dozen gentlemen of Glendale at a dinner at Ye Ginger Tavern Friday evening. The object of the meeting was to devise ways and means of arranging a regular income of $500 per month for the local Red Cross chapter until the close of the war. The ladies of the community are doing an excellent work in the way of making Red Cross supplies, and now they are in need of more money to continue this good work.

Mr. Braly gave a grand talk, outlining the great work the ladies are doing, and Rev. T. F. McCrea, vice president of the chapter, explained in detail just for what purpose the money has been used in the various departments of the organization.

After a liberal discussion of the question, the men present urged that steps be taken at once to make a systematic canvass of the city, asking pledges for monthly payments for amounts proportionate to the financial ability of those agreeing to make such payments.

Complying with the suggestion as mentioned in the above paragraph, J. H. Braly was named as the chairman of a committee of five persons who will immediately get workers busy in carrying on an active drive for the raising of money for the Red Cross. The other members of the committee are Ed M. Lee, L. W. Bosserman, E. F. Parker and C. O. Pulliam.

The gentlemen present were: Alex Mitchell, W. K. Parkinson, Rev. T. F. McCrea, Ed M. Lee, A. T. Cowan, F. H. Vesper, W. F. Wood, E. F. Parker, Mattison B. Jones, Mayor J. S. Thompson, C. O. Pulliam, L. W. Bosserman.

Mrs. Braly assisted Mr. Braly in receiving the guests, and presided at the table during the serving of a very appetizing dinner.

The Glendale Red Cross chapter is one of the strongest to be found anywhere in a city of the population of Glendale. The work is being done by the members without remuneration. You are requested to visit the Red Cross headquarters and see for yourself the noble work these ladies are doing.

WILLIAM BODE WRITES

Mrs. E. A. Bode, of 306 South Orange street, has an interesting letter from her son, William, of Battery A, 143d Field Artillery of California, who is at the Presidio at San Francisco. Extracts from his letter follow:

"We went to Tanforan Park last Saturday, the 13th, to stay a week, but one day we were out on the field in practice when we were ordered back to the Presidio immediately. We pulled in about 9:30 o'clock Thursday night, making the march in about five hours, a distance equal to the distance from Los Angeles to the city of Fernando, but up hill and down.

"Saturday we were ordered to parade a battalion of field artillery in Oakland. That meant getting up early and crossing the ferry. There was also sent over the 62d, 12th, 13th and another regiment from Fort Mason, of infantry. Then there was cavalry and navy. I rode my horse Billy just behind the mayor and just preceding our captain. I was acting adjutant's courier. We got home about 9:30 p. m.

"We have been in three parades, and should you ever see a 'weekly' with any San Francisco parades, either Liberty bonds or boys, look for us. You may see us on dress march. I will always be riding on the right of a column of individually mounted men, just behind the first battery. We are the battery commander's staff and ride in a column of twos. I ride as the first man on the right, except in the Oakland parade. We parade this Wednesday for Liberty bonds and next Friday for Liberty boys in Frisco. It seems as if we are a circus outfit. We are having some extensive and intensive drills now, and get fine practice drilling the 'short cuts'.

"It will be around December 1 when we go south, but the time will pass rapidly. We are always glad to get the Glendale Evening News that you send me, and have been reading so much of the Glendale boys being presented with 'comfort bags' and the 'candy days,' 'pie days,' etc., but we are also Glendale boys, and there are five of us here in Battery A and eight in the navy. Is it 'out of sight, out of mind'? We feel neglected. Nevertheless, we send our best regards and love to dear old Glendale."

GLENDALE, CALIFORNIA, SATURDAY, OCTOBER 17, 1917

"EAT ALL YOU WANT" SAYS FOOD ADMINISTRATION

An army of 500,000 men and women is forming under the food administration to go out and tell America's 100,000,000 people to eat all they want. All it asks is that they conserve the few needed war foods: wheat, meat, fats and sugar. Most folks have had the idea that the Food Administration was trying to cut down the size of the average American's meals.

"Not at all" said the Food Administration today. "All we're to do is to get people to eat more of the good things of which we have an abundance, and less of the necessary war foods we haven't so much of." This good news will be carried to every one of America's 20,000,000 front doors by this volunteer army between October 28 and November 4—National Food Pledge Week.

The 100,000 ministers of America will start the campaign by preaching War Food Sermons Sunday October 28. The army will go out the following day ringing doorbells, that "first line of defense" in the cozy trenches of American homes. Leading these bread-butter-and-beef-battalions will be the War Mothers of America: women whose fathers, sons, sweethearts or husbands are at the front or on their way there; than whom, the Food Administration feels, there is none better fitted in America to carry the message of war-time meals to that strategic stretch of domestic terrain between the pantry and the kitchen range.

The idea the Administration wants to stress is that it is not asking anyone to eat less food, but merely to eat different food. There is, it points out, plenty of excellent food for everyone. The only thing there is a shortage of are some foods that can be compactly shipped abroad and which contain tissue and energy building elements that are vital to the fighting power of our own and Allied soldiers.

By this, the Administration also made clear why it is urging the saving of these war-foods as a voluntary campaign. "It is because," said a Food Administration official today, "America is a democracy; and a democracy's people are presumed to be intelligent and patriotic enough to do their duty by their country promptly as soon as they see it. In Europe, particularly in Germany, the people's patriotism is not trusted. Their supplies are seized and doled out to them by a master. Nothing is left for the individual to decide. There is an enforced patriotism. Ours, voluntary."

The Food Administration is striving to make sure that the United States does not run short of wheat, meats, fats, milk or sugar to send our Allies and our armies in Europe. A continued shortage of these things will give Germany a much better chance of winning the war by weakening the fighting powers of the Allies.

America is the only allied nation in position to supply these vital commodities to make up the shortage. The only way America can do it is by every individual American doing his or her bit of personal conservation.

One pound less wheat flour per week per person means 133 million bushels of wheat saved this year for the fighters. One third of an ounce per day less meat fats per person means 395,000 tons of fats saved in the year. One ounce less of the needed meats per person per day means 4,400,000 meat animals saved in the year. An ounce less sugar per day per person means 1,185,000 tons of sugar saved in a year and probably a lower retail price of sugar for everybody.

The only things you are asked to conserve are wheat bread, sugar, candies, cream, butter, bacon, pork, lard, suet, animal fats such as beef dripping, milk, wheat, beef, veal and mutton.

It is this idea Food Week is being organized to bring home to the front doors of America's 22,000,000 homes.

A GOVERNOR WHO HELPS BOYS

There is an article about Governor Capper of Kansas in the November American Magazine. The author says:

Arthur Capper, Governor of Kansas, believed one year ago that any boy with enough ambition in him to wish to make a start for himself could be trusted to pay his debts. To back up this belief Governor Capper lent about $3000 to 102 boys in that many Kansas counties, with the understanding that the borrowed money was to be used to buy one hog, the further stipulation being that the animals should be pure bred, of any breed the boys might wish to select. It was agreed also that if any boy won a prize in a county or state fair with his hog the Governor would duplicate the amount from his own pocket. As might have been expected, the cashier in the Governor's own business house hooted when he heard of the plan. He hooted more when the drafts began to arrive from the boys as they bought their hogs and began the year's work. But he has ceased to hoot. Only one boy of the 102 made a complete failure, and this was what lawyers call the interposition of providence, the hog the boy bought as head of the expected family having died ingloriously before her task began. Not a dollar has been lost, and the reports of the youthful stockmen show that, with the exception mentioned, every one of them made an excellent profit. Indeed, the records contain stories that might encourage many a man with a few dollars to invest.

SECRET OF HAPPINESS

The secret of happiness is not in satisfying your wants, but in changing them.

Satiety is the great delusion. Getting what we want does not bring happiness. The real joy of the spirit of man is in development, in rising ever to higher planes. The soul is not to be filled, as a bucket, it is to be unfolded, as a bud. The only satisfaction of life is more life.

And, to state the proposition more concretely, the happiness of man comes not from without, but from within.

Anarchists, by some reckoned as one of the seven wise men, stated it: "A man's felicity consists, not in the outward and visible favors and blessings of fortune, but in the inward and unseen perfections and riches of the mind."

That is the great truth, perhaps the greatest of truths. That is what Buddha discovered when he sat under the Bo tree and received the illumination. Not the sating of desire, but the rising to purer and higher desires, is the answer to the soul's riddle.

That is the gist of what today we call new thought.

That is the dynamic that underlies the Christian Science movement.

That is the essence of Christianity, as expressed by its founder: "Except ye be converted ye can not see the kingdom."—Dr. Frank Chase in October Hearst's Magazine.

PROVED HIS CONTENTION

"I," said the temperance man, "strongly object to the custom of christening ships with champagne."

"I don't," replied the other man. "I think there's a temperance lesson in it."

"How can that be?"

"Well, immediately after the first bottle of wine the ship takes to water and sticks to it ever after."

HAPPENINGS IN STATE

U. OF C. AND OREGON AGGIES MEET ON FOOTBALL FIELD

BERKELEY, Oct. 27.—The University of California and Oregon Agricultural College football teams tried conclusions on California field this afternoon. The Oregonians, fresh from a 26 to 6 victory over the University of Idaho, scored a week ago, arrived yesterday and went on to the field in fine trim. The Berkeley team, although considerably depleted as a result of the draft and volunteering, has been making a good showing.

DEL MONTE, Oct. 27.—Del Monte was a Mecca for sportsmen today, with the first annual autumn meeting of the Monterey Jockey Club and the annual fall golf handicap opening. The two sports will be combined, the golfers holding the lime-light in the mornings and the races in the afternoons.

BERKELEY, Oct. 27.—"Sall wrong, Methuselah; it's all wrong. No longer need your age be respected, Methuselah, old top. You thought you lived to be a thousand years old, but you didn't. You died at the tender age of 83. At least that's a new theory advanced by Prof. R. T. Crawford, of the astronomy department of the University of California. He explained that in studying the stars and the work of ancient astronomers he discovered that the word "annus" applied to Methuselah's age in the Bible, also means a cycle as well as a year, and that while the Bible says Methuselah lived a thousand "annuses" it's probable that those "annuses" only meant a cycle of the moon, and Methuselah's real age was but 83.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 27.—Uncle Sam's soldiers in France are going to eat a little pineapple. The steamer Matsonia has landed 201,897 cases here. Each case contains 24 cans, and it took a total of 7,000,000 pineapples to fill the consignment. The shipment will be moved to the Atlantic coast and shipped from there immediately to satisfy the appetites of Pershing's men.

Tips form a legal part of a waiter's wages. That was decided this week by the Industrial Accident Commission of California in the case of Julius Wertheimer, waiter, who was injured when he collided with a steam table in a San Francisco restaurant. His wages from the "house" were $1.50 daily, but tips raised this to $120 a month. The commission ruled compensation for his time lost from injuries must be paid on the basis of his wages plus tips of $120 monthly.

California tomorrow will implore divine blessings and success for American arms in battle against tyranny.

Answering the call of President Wilson, they will gather in their churches where patriotic services and prayers for victory will be held by every denomination. The day marks the opening of a week's campaign to enlist every man, woman and child in California and the United States, for that matter, in the food conservation campaign. Beginning Monday, committees will start out planning to visit every home in California before the end of the week, securing signatures to food pledges.

This campaign is not one to institute self-denial, but in its place conservation and substitution of plentiful foodstuffs for those which are not as plentiful, the leaders of the campaign point out. Seventy per cent of the American people, they claim, now eat more than they need, and this campaign is designed to stop this waste that the allies may have what America doesn't need.

PRESIDENT'S PROCLAMATION FOR DAY OF PRAYER

Whereas, The Congress of the United States, by a concurrent resolution adopted on the 4th day of the present month of October, in view of the entrance of our nation into the vast and awful war which now afflicts the greater part of the world, has requested me to set apart by official proclamation a day on which our people should be called upon to offer concerted prayer of Almighty God for His divine aid in success of our arms. And Whereas, It behooves a great free people, nurtured as we have been in the eternal principles of justice and of right, a nation which has sought from the earliest days of its existence to be obedient to the divine teachings which have inspired it in the exercise of its liberties, to turn always to the Supreme Master and cast themselves in faith at His feet, praying for His aid and succor in every hour of trial, to the end that the great aims to which we dedicate our power as a people may not perish among men, but be always asserted and defended with fresh ardor and devotion, and through the divine blessing, set at the last upon enduring foundations for the benefit of all the free people of the earth.

Now, Therefore, I, Woodrow Wilson, President of the United States, gladly responding to the wish expressed by the Congress, do appoint October 28, being the last Sunday of the present month, as a day of supplication and prayer for all the people of the nation, earnestly exhorting all my countrymen to observe the appointed day, according to their several faiths, in solemn prayer that God's blessing may rest upon the high task which is laid upon us, to the end that the cause for which we give our lives and treasure may triumph and our efforts be blessed with high achievement.

Personals

Mrs. T. D. Ogg, of South Kenwood, who has been quite ill for the last week with the grippe, hopes to be out again on Sunday.

Miss Lorena Studebaker of Riverside is spending the week end with her friend, Miss Laura Roberts, at her home, 405 South Maryland.

Mrs. E. A. Aiken of Ventura, Cal., is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Holway, who has come out from Minneapolis to spend the winter in Glendale.

Dr. and Mrs. Ferguson, of 508 Orange street, moved to Los Angeles on Friday, where they will make their home for the present at the Zelda apartments.

Mrs. Charles W. Bartow, of 1444 West First street, is attending a birthday party today in honor of a friend, Mrs. Hubert Grensted, at Monterey Park.

Mrs. Terry McNains of Los Angeles, formerly of South Orange street, was back on Thursday visiting former friends and neighbors. Mrs. McNains has recently returned from a year in the East.

Mrs. R. H. Thume and Master Jack, of 1633 Oak street, have returned from a few months' visit in Philadelphia. Mrs. Thume reports most articles in the food line higher in price there than here.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Temple, of 301 Orange street, will spend the week end as guests of Mrs. Temple's uncle, Mr. D. K. Edwards, at his summer home, Glen Edwards, in the mountains near Redlands.

Mrs. J. F. Judd, with her two children, John and Grace, has come out from Los Angeles and is stopping with Mrs. Frazer at 333 North Maryland. Mrs. Judd may decide to remain in Glendale permanently.

The Shakespeare section of the Tuesday Afternoon Club will meet on Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home of the curator, Mrs. C. H. Temple, 301 Orange street. The first act of "Romeo and Juliet" will be taken up. There is still time for any member of the club who wishes to join this section to do so.

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Phillips of Los Angeles, who lost their home in Belvedere Heights last week by fire, are visiting Mrs. H. M. Merrill, of 403½ Broadway. They plan to remain with her and with Mrs. O. R. Barnett, of 1434 West Broadway, until they decide on their plans for future residence. Their house and furniture were completely destroyed.

Miss Gladys Lampert, of 306 West Fifth street, and Miss Marion Carmichael, of Cedar street, chaperoned by Miss Lampert's mother, Mrs. J. C. Lampert, attended a masquerade "stunt" party on Friday evening at the University of Southern California, where Miss Lampert is a student. A most entertaining program and a very merry evening full of Halloween entertainment is reported.

Master Preston Blair of 311 Gardena street, was given a birthday party on Wednesday, October 27, his ninth birthday, by his mother, Mrs. Roy Blair. The little guests came in early in the evening and spent a very happy two hours, hugely enjoying the refreshments, which included a fine big birthday cake, with candles. The very festive Halloween decorations were largely prepared by the small host himself, who had most industriously cut crepe paper figures and other gay ornaments, which were hung upon the curtains and displayed in other prominent spots about the rooms.

An informal reception was given Friday evening at the cafeteria of the high school for the teachers of the freshman classes by the high school Parent-Teacher Association, of which Mrs. Cora M. Nichols is the president. The evening was very pleasantly spent in getting acquainted, some amusing games assisting in this agreeable task. Refreshments were served in cafeteria style. The members of the hospitality committee were the hostesses of the evening. Mrs. William Crawford, the chairman, was assisted by Mrs. George Herald, Mrs. G. H. Rowe, Mrs. Joseph Cramer and Miss Beatrice Helyer.

Dr. Jessie A. Russell, president of the California Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teacher associations, returned Thursday from the San Diego district convention, where she was the principal speaker on the program Wednesday afternoon and where a reception was given in her honor in the evening, a large number being in attendance at both affairs. Just prior to that trip Dr. Russell spent two days at Santa Barbara, where she addressed four mass meetings and several conferences of women and was also a speaker on the program of the state convention of California probation officers. She also spoke at the San Bernardino district convention, held at Redlands last week.

Mr. and Mrs. K. K. Kelley and family, who have been in Glendale for about a month, stopping at the Florence apartments, 403½ Brand boulevard, left at noon today for Torrance, Cal. They are making the trip in their machine.

YEOMEN'S DANCE

The Yeomen's dance on Friday evening in Tropic was very successful in every way, with a good crowd and excellent music. A number of striking costumes were in evidence and the hall presented an unusually decorative appearance, with especially clever Halloween ideas carried out in new combinations. The four walls were covered with cornstalks, which appeared prominently everywhere, with the inevitable pumpkins, carved with expressive faces. A large ghost, lit with a mysterious inner light, appeared from behind the piano, and the drop lights were covered with weird pumpkin spooks. Mr. Frank Alf, who is a clever cartoonist, arranged fantastic witches, black cats and other traditional night prowlers in a unique manner, so that they appeared in bold relief with the lights shining from behind. Refreshments of sandwiches and coffee were served.

GLEN EYRIE PARTY

The Glen Eyrie chapter of the Eastern Star gave one of its most charming parties on Thursday evening at the Masonic Hall. Mrs. C. O. Pulliam, assisted by the Misses Mae and Carrie Cornwell, deserve much praise for the artistic effects of their decorations, as well as for the success of the affair in other ways.

Streamers of pumpkin blossoms, leaves and pumpkins, all made from crepe paper, were suspended from the chandeliers. Other streamers of Halloween colors, with the traditional black bats and cats, hung from other available points, lending a most festive appearance to the hall. Instead of flowers, corn tassels were placed about in decorative holders of Halloween significance. The usual patch of cornstalks appeared with the attending pumpkins, "real live ones" in this instance. Peach foliage in beautiful colorings lent an added touch of autumn to the scene, and great clusters of chrysanthemums nodded in the reception room. The score cards were clever conceits, decorated in cats and owls.

The refreshments were both appropriate and appetizing, rolls and "wienies" being served with coffee and delicious pumpkin pie, rosy cheeked apples adding a finishing touch with colorful effect.

There were 17 tables playing and about 80 in attendance altogether, a number preferring a purely social evening to cards. The first prizes were won by Mrs. E. U. Emery, who received a beautiful green quill pen and metal holder, and Mr. Albert Cornwell, who won a handsome bronze ash tray. Mr. and Mrs. Anderson were respectively consoled with another attractive bronze ash tray and letter opener.

The hostesses of the evening were assisted in entertaining and serving by Mrs. William Nichols and Mrs. Harry E. Betz and by Mesdames Albert Cornwell, Milton Grumbling and C. O. Pulliam.

SONG OF THE WORKER

(By "Church of Glendale")
For some will work,
And some will shirk—
For that is a way of humanity.
The shirkers think they get the best;
They even seek new ways to rest—
A pitiful sort of inanity.

The wise ones work,
Too proud to shirk—
They work with a smile of urbanity.
The workers know they get the best,
And, changing work, get sweetest rest—
For that is the law of humanity.

A Crying Need

—The big thing on hand right now is the securing of better fire protection for our town. So I am using my "ad" space this week to try to impress on my friends and readers the importance of voting "Yes" on the bond proposition next Tuesday. —I have lived in Glendale nearly 10 years and I want to go on record as saying that I believe we have the best governed little city in the country. Our present city officers are absolutely above reproach—every one of them—and their judgment, as a rule, is right. They can be trusted absolutely to spend this money for the best equipment to be had. Let's show our confidence in them when they keep putting up this matter to us by voting these bonds. Don't forget.

COLUMBUS AVE. P.-T. A. MEETING

At the regular monthly meeting of the Columbus Avenue P.-T. A., held at the school Thursday, the president, Mrs. John Robert White, presided.

The finance committee reported $40 cleared at the recent bazar held for the benefit of the athletic fund. After a report of other committees the meeting was turned over to Mrs. Fiske and Mr. Hush on behalf of the Red Cross. Mrs. Fiske gave the mothers some idea of the materials to be saved and turned over to the Red Cross salvage committee. Papers, magazines, tin foil, including tooth paste and cold cream tubes, old tires, inner tubes, peroxide bottles, etc. Mrs. Fiske is secretary of the salvage committee in Los Angeles and is in a position to help outside chapters, which she is only too glad to do. She also explained that demands for other articles can be created by the local chapters; for instance, a large olive oil concern would probably be very glad to buy back their own bottles, for glass is very scarce.

When Mrs. Fiske finished her very happy talk, Mr. Hush took the floor, and the only regret is that every one in Los Angeles county was not there to hear him. He told of the origin, the purpose and some of the results of Red Cross work. He explained how they handled relief work in all countries and during all big calamities. He also told what the Red Cross is really doing in this war. Do you realize that the Red Cross is sending more than $100,000 worth of Red Cross supplies to Europe every month? Sending 700 tons of food to France each week for refugees? Maintaining hospital ships for the U. S. navy? It has raised and equipped fifty base hospitals, fifteen of which are already in the field or en route, and dozens of other big things.

Do you realize that you can help, not only by joining the Red Cross, but by your moral support, your good will, by tracing all untrue and malicious statements made against the Red Cross, and by being good boosters and not knockers.

There are just two classes of people these days—patriots and traitors. Which will you be? If you can't boost, keep still, but do try to understand the real situation and you surely will boost.

Mr. Hush was a real inspiration to the mothers, and urged them to let the children do their bit. The only way to end the war is for every one to work.

A vote of thanks was extended to Mrs. White by the Columbus avenue school for the beautiful banner with which she presented them.

The meeting closed with a social hour. Columbus avenue has a live P.-T. A.

CONUNDRUM?

(By Walt Le Noir Church.)

"I have a little red cow. I feed her in a stall.

Let me give her what I would, she could eat it all.

Give her wind, she will fly; give her water, she will die."

Of course "fire" is the answer to that old-time conundrum. While the "little red cow" is a good servant if confined to her stall, when she gets away, rampaging around, she becomes a rapacious wild beast that grows more voracious by what it feeds on. "Give her wind, she will fly."

You bet she will fly, for the heavens and the hills are likely to provide wind galore when the little red cow once begins to roar.

The wind bloweth where it listeth. You hear the sound thereof. But can you tell whence it comes or whither it goes? Yet it sure rushes towards the little red cow who, with bellowing delight, jumps to meet its best beloved, and behold how great a ruction a little flame kindleth!

"Give her water, she will die."

Good enough. But first catch the water.

Now, Glendale has water enough, and to spare. But how to get it on the right spot at the right time. Aye, there's the rub. That's the what-you-call-'em that gives our ever watching and waiting fire laddies the wiles, and makes many a windy night hideous with dread.

You can't drown the fierce little red cow, once she's a roaring, by feeding her water through a bubbling straw, or words to that effect. Not much. She'd only get hotter, and bellow for more. "To drown or not to drown the savage little red cow"—that's the question.

The proper answer is: "Vote the fire protection bonds next Tuesday, October 30."

"Of course—if I remember."

Well, to be certain we won't forget, let's just say over to ourselves, about every so often, that fetching old rhyme:

"I have a little red cow.
I feed her in a stall.
Let me give her what I would,
She could eat it all.
Give her wind, she will fly;
Give her water, she will die."

There was an old maid who cried:

"How
Shall I flee from this terrible cow?
I will sit on this style,
And continue to smile,
Which may soften the heart of the cow."

Nay, nay, Pauline! Vote the fire protection bonds.

Have you bought your season ticket for the Red Cross concert series?—$1.50, at the Red Cross headquarters.

Regarding Billy Hohenzollern

—Some of these days old Kaiser Bill will get his everlasting fill, and then the German folks we like will say, "Oh for the love of Mike, why didn't we 'can' Bill before he laid this trouble at our door."
—Meantime these things must be endured. Don't lose your nerve. Keep well insured.

LUTHERAN CHURCH

Tomorrow is what is called in the history of the Christian church Reformation Sunday. In the observance of such a day, with appropriate services, both in the Bible school and congregation, the Lutheran church always takes a leading part. She is expected to do so by the rest of the Christian world, because her very founder was the great "hero of the Reformation" himself. We welcome all orthodox Christian churches into all the rich heritages secured by the Reformation.

At 10:30 this Sunday morning there will be a combined service of the Bible school and congregation in honor of the "Little Saxon Monk," Luther, and the Reformation. There will be a special program of recitation, readings and singing. All welcome to celebrate the event with us. No evening services because of closing services at the Sunday tabernacle.

THE BETTER MAN

There was once a Scotch farmer famed for his strength who was often challenged by people from a distance who had heard of his reputation. One day there arrived from London Lord Danby, a well known amateur athlete. He found the Scot working in the field.

"Friend," said his lordship after first tying his horse to a tree, "I have come a long way to see which of us is the better wrestler."

Without saying a word the farmer seized him around the middle, pitched him over the hedge and resumed his work.

His lordship slowly gathered himself together, whereupon the farmer said: "Weel, hae ye anything mair tae say tae me?"

"No, but perhaps you'll be so good as to throw me my horse."

MAXWELL

Most Miles per Gallon

Most Miles on Tires

We used to say:
"The Maxwell's real greatness is on the inside—the mechanical parts you can't see."

But the wonderful new 1918 Maxwell has just been delivered to us.

Now we've changed our tune.

Today we say:
"The Maxwell is great inside and out—great in EVERY POSSIBLE way."

Always the most efficient—most economical light car built, the Maxwell now has—

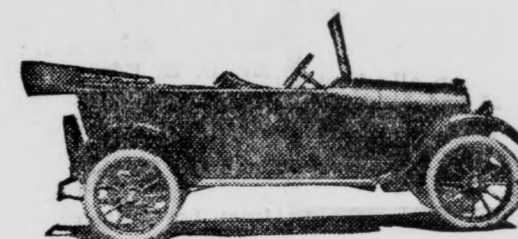

A 6-inch longer wheel base, making it larger and roomier.

Heavier and more rigid frames—6 inches, instead of 3 inches deep—and yet is 50 pounds lighter.

Compensating underslung rear springs—the last word in spring suspension at any price.

A sloped windshield—style of body equal to the highest priced cars.

Friends, the 1918 Maxwell is the best looking, best built car for the money we ever saw!
